Comments

Documented attendance for the duration of the session requirements qualifies for 15.0 CE credit(s). In the opinion of The Institute, the content of this session aligns with the FP Canada's CE requirements for the category of 'Professional Responsibility'(2 CE credits) and 'Financial Planning'(13 CE credits). However, it remains the responsibility of the CFP Professional to confirm this.

Important notes: Advisors are responsible for ensuring that CE credits are applicable to the individual regulatory, licensing, designation, and professional membership bodies under which they are governed.
